

A motor scooter in the house by Trung

When I lived in Vietnam I had a motor scooter. I was only 10 years old.

One day I was riding my scooter. My little brother was on the back of the scooter.

When we got back home, I couldn't stop the scooter.

I drove through the front door into the living room.

I jumped off and the scooter crashed, but my little brother was still on the scooter. The scooter fell on him and it broke his leg.

My brother cried and my father took him to hospital. The doctor put a plaster on his leg.

I thought my father would hit me, but he didn't. He said, "Don't bring your scooter into the house again."
